

Doing the right thing

A couple of weeks ago, I and others asked elected members of the U.S. House of Representatives to pass a bill. This bill was urgently needed to provide the U.S. Treasury with the tools necessary to prevent a financial crisis. Millions of jobs would have been lost, retirement savings would have been devastated and our economy would have collapsed. There will be plenty of time to convict or penalize those wrongdoers who caused the lending crisis. I applaud the leadership and bipartisan efforts of U.S. Rep. Lee Terry, R-Neb., U.S. Sen. Chuck

David L. Solomon

□

